Calling All Emerging Leaders (Classes 1992-2000)!

Read any good books lately? If not, would you like to? Here's the situation: we need to select a number of business related books for distribution at the Senior Leaders Conference. We'd like your help in identifying the books our SES, General Officers and other leaders should be reading. This is a chance to help expand the corporate thinking process and help influence change; prime reasons you participated in the ELC, right?

Please select one or more books from the enclosed list, and send me a BRIEF synopsis, explaining what the book is about and why you'd recommend it to our senior leaders. Reading these should be interesting, and writing a BRIEF (1/2 to 1 page max.) synopsis should not be a burden. We will provide your reviews to the "seniors" and include your name, unless you tell us otherwise.

Interested? If so, send me an email with the book you intend to read, and I'll assign it to you. That way we'll be sure to cover more titles, and avoid duplication. Synopses are due (via email only) NLT 30 June 2001. We hope to hear from you soon.

//Signed//
